

WTF 5k Plus – 10/4/15 – Brought to you by Boutlier and McNew

Eight hardy souls (with 16 soles) toed the line for a modified version of the WTF this year. The weather was cold and the trail was muddy, but spirits were good and the race went off without a hitch.

Well, one hitch.... The course I described in the pre-race followed the White trail from Belair Road to the waterfall. But unbeknownst to me, the trail had been re-routed to avoid an overused and abused section.... But no one got lost and no blood was shed, so in the end it was all good.

On the men's side John Heller cruised unopposed to victory in 37:31 followed by Charlie Hogan in 39:40. For the women, Jenifer Perkovich brought it home first in 41:39 followed by Roxie McNeal in 44:21.

Good showings by all on mucky day!
